

Literacy

THIS FIELD OF STUDY HAS BEEN DISCONTINUED. CONTINUING STUDENTS WHO HAVE DECLARED THIS FIELD ARE ABLE TO COMPLETE THEIR PROGRAM AND HAVE RECEIVED AN EMAIL WITH ASSISTANCE ON HOW TO CHOOSE THEIR REMAINING COURSES. A COPY OF THE EMAIL CAN BE FOUND BELOW.

This field of study has been developed in direct response to the National Inquiry into the Teaching of Literacy and the report's recommendation for ongoing opportunities for evidence-based professional learning and literacy and teaching. It will provide classroom teachers with professional knowledge about current research-based approaches to the teaching of literacy. There is flexibility for students in the Guided Study or Special Topic (EDUC7027 or EDUC2026) to undertake a work-place project building on ideas developed in other courses. Flexibility of the program is essential to its success given the context of students who are also practising classroom teachers.

Requirements for graduating with the Literacy Field of Study - 8 units of courses specified in Part B of the 2014 Course List, under the Literacy heading, plus any balance outstanding to reach the minimum requirement for the program (GCEdSt = 8 units, GDipEdSt = 16 units, MEdSt = 16/24/32 units).

Email sent in February 2015 to continuing students:

Dear Student,

You are currently enrolled in the Literacy Field of Study in an Educational Studies program. This email is to update you on your pathway for continuing through your program in 2015 onwards.

Please note – if you have already received an enrolment plan from School of Education student administration staff, please ignore this email.

This is the Course List that you had to follow if you had declared* Literacy:
