

The Richard Baldauf Memorial Prize

Best paper by a postgraduate research student

The objective of the Richard Baldauf Memorial Prize is to recognise the research contributions of students in one the following areas:

- applied linguistics
- language planning and policy
- TESOL education
- comparative education

The Prize is being offered as a memorial to Professor Richard (Dick) Baldauf in recognition of his long standing commitment to scholarship and student learning.

The value of the prize is $1000, awarded annually.

The recipient will also receive a certificate signed by the Head of School and the Chair of the Research and HDR Committee of the School of Education.

The Prize is awarded by a Selection Panel convened by the Research and HDR Committee. The decision made by the Selection Panel is final and no discussion will be entered into.

Eligibility

To be eligible for this prize, nominees must satisfy the following criteria:

- Be enrolled in a HDR program in the School of Education. Both full-time and part-time students are eligible to apply for the prize. The nominee must not have received the PhD/MPhil before the deadline of the application for the prize.
- Demonstrated research potential through the publication of a paper in a well-regarded journal.
- Both UQ ranking of journals and the selection panel's judgments will be taken into account to determine the quality of the work.
- Preference will be given to papers that deal with work close to Professor Baldauf's in terms of research orientation and interests as detailed above.
- Award recipient must receive the award in person and make a brief presentation on the paper.
- Applicants are required to write a 300 words short text to justify why their nominated article deserves consideration for the award in terms of the criteria.